THE FLAG AS A SYMBOL.

In his call for the observance of flag day, June 14, Governor Coolidge of Massachusetts invited quotation as well as thoughtful consideration. He said, for example: "While the flag of America has become the oldest in design, it remains the newest in symbol. In certain fundamental principles it represents there can be no advance, for there is no beyond. It is the flag of a people who have arrived. It must be the flag of a people who have the determination to remain. It stands for order and liberty, for freedom of human hand and human mind, free speech, free press, free church; it means that property and life and honor shall be inviolate and it recognizes the duty of the people to protect each other in the security of those rights and that all experience and all reason demonstrate that the soul source of such protection is in government according to law. Unless it be the symbol of the law administered by a government which has the disposition and the strength to be supreme, all the meaning and the glory of the flag fade away and all reverence for it perishes."

Ordinarily many of us think of the flag merely as a symbol of patriotism and national power. Of course we also think of it as a symbol of American liberty, but too often we are apt to forget that the liberty we prize, the real safety of the land we love, and even the national power of which we are proud, depend on the stability of our established institutions and the undisputed reign of law. Yet without the protection provided us through government by law we really possess nothing of value in assured security.

WHAT IT COST.

Exposures by the balance sheet is to the effect that it cost the United States government, which is financed by the people, a cool billion to operate the railroads of the country taken over from the owners as a war-time emergency act. Now exposition is by evidence of experts that it is going to cost the people of the United States who financed the government, just twice that sum as an initial expense of getting these same railroads returned to the owners in smooth running order. Unquestionably the railroads are a costly necessity as well as an expensive luxury. They present an inescapable problem in industry and economics that presses for solution. Of course whatever else may be uncertain, this one thing is sure—that however owned supervised or operated the people, who finance the government, feed the fires in industry furnaces and stabilize public and private economies, will pay the billion dollar bills.

Los Angeles has nearly doubled its population during the past ten years, increasing more than eighty per cent, passing San Francisco and becoming the largest American city west of St. Louis. What did it? The movies—nothing more nor less. For several years Los Angeles has been the chief manufacturing center of the great new "movie" industry, attracting operatives from every part of the country and even from beyond our national boundaries.

According to one report the Bolsheviks adopted forced labor at themuzzle of a gun in order to prevent city operatives from rushing to the country where there is at least food for all who will work for it. In this country the rush of free labor is now the other way, but a real food scarcity would doubtless turn the tide in no great while.

ATTORNEYS WERE AFRAID OF JURIES

In the Fayette court at Uniontown there have been four convictions, one "quitta" and one defendant dismissed in the liquor cases which have been on trial there during the week. Liquid evidence in sufficient quantities to stock a well sized drink emporium was exhibited before juries Thursday in the case on trial before Judge Reppert and Judge J. C. Work and the care and disposition of exhibits produced more than one amusing scene, despite the dignity of court decorum. For the defendants made objection to giving the jury custody of the exhibits on the ground that juries in previous cases had sampled the contents while in the jury room and court room number three it was pointed out that a jury in returning a verdict in a liquor case had asked permission of the court to destroy the liquor.

However, Judge Reppert before whom the motion was made, overruled the objection, stating with emphasis that the court had full confidence that the jury would exercise proper judgment in examining the exhibits.

NEW SURVEY BOAT FOR ENGINEER CORPS

In order to facilitate the preliminary survey of the Monongahela river to the State line, government officials have ordered a new survey boat to be built at once, and in keeping with these new instructions the feel of the boat was laid at the government boat yard, Lock Four, on Thursday. The work will be pushed forward as fast as possible, that the new craft may be placed in commission this summer. The boat will not be supplied with power, but will be fitted up for the accommodation of the engineer corps and their equipment. It will be towed from place to place along the river as the requirements of the engineers demand and will be in every way a modern boat for the purpose for which it is intended.

BODY OF WHITE NOT YET RECOVERED

The body of the riverman White, drowned off the steamer J. C. Risher in front of the ice plant at Lock 4 on Saturday morning, had not been recovered up until noon today. It is said that White's home was in West Virginia.

Harvey E. Settles, formerly a resident of Charleroi, and now of Boston Mass., was a visitor for a short while in Charleroi Saturday, accompanied by Floyd Chalfant of Beaver. Mr. Settles is now in charge of the real estate department of the New England Trust company in Boston.

Monarchs Not Over Cleanly.
King Charles II. of England dressed shabbily and Louis XIV. of France liked to wash, a little cold cream applied with a handkerchief being the chief tribute he paid to cleanliness. In St. Simon's detailed account of the king's day, from the passing of his periwig through the closed bed curtains in the morning to the ceremonial placing of the night shirt over his shoulders when he retired, there is no mention of any ablutions.

MRS. THOMAS' WORD TO WOMEN

Tells of the Great Good Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound Did For Her.

Morning, Mich.—"About a year after my second baby was born I suffered from a nervous condition every morning so that I could hardly get around. I had heard from other women about your medicine and had read letters about it so my husband and I decided to try it. I took the Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound and in a short time I was entirely relieved. I also took the Vegetable Compound before my last baby came and am thankful to say that it relieved my sufferings. I shall never be without it at such times. I have told others of its great worth and shall keep on telling it."—Mrs. Ed. Thomas, Box 184, Morning, Mich.

DOCTOR'S THRILLING STRUGGLE WITH DEATH IS VICTORIOUS

Fierce Battle with Grim Spectre Brings Health to Dr. Reese and a Message of Hope to Millions of Sufferers

After Dr. H. V. Reese had suffered for 10 years and been told by the greatest stomach specialist in the country that there was no hope for his recovery, he determined to spend his remaining days in experimenting upon himself in an endeavor to develop a remedy for sufferers from stomach, liver and kidney troubles such as himself. Dr. Reese's condition at this time was so critical that it was impossible for him to retain food in his stomach, it being necessary to wash that organ out two or three times a day. This in addition to the severe liver and kidney trouble which generally accompanies stomach trouble. After months of heart breaking failures and with his condition growing worse, Dr. Reese finally hit upon the Formula which is now known as The Reese Formula R-11 that completely restored his health. This happened in 1908 twenty-one years ago. Today at the age of 73 Medical Director, Dr. Reese weighs 175 pounds, mule Col. Dr. Reese Formula R-11 is sold in Charleroi by all druggists, or at Hennings' Drug Store.

LTAVES FOA ITS NEW SCENE OF OPEIATION

The big towing steamer John A. Wood, recently thoroughly overhauled at the Elizabeth Marine Ways for the Standard Oil company, was expected to leave the Pittsburg wharf today for the new scene of operations in which it will be engaged in the future. The Wood goes to Baton Rouge, La., and will tow oil barges on the Mississippi river and the bayous for its new owners. All other boats of the Wood class now in the Pittsburg district are harbored in landings and apparently rotting down at the end of their cables.

AIRPLANE WAS ON ITS WAY TO NEW YORK

The airplane which passed over Charleroi about ten days ago, going south, was the New York and Cleveland air plane. The driver was off his course and landed on the Forsyth farm, back of Fayette City to get his bearings. He had made the trip from Cleveland to the Monongahela valley in one hour and fifteen minutes. On landing he said when he saw the river he knew he was off his course, as there is no stream of this size on the route he was traveling. With the aid of a number of residents in the vicinity where he landed he was able to get his machine going again and made another start for New York.

THERE'S A REASON

ARE YOU HUNGRY FOR A REALLY GOOD PLAY?

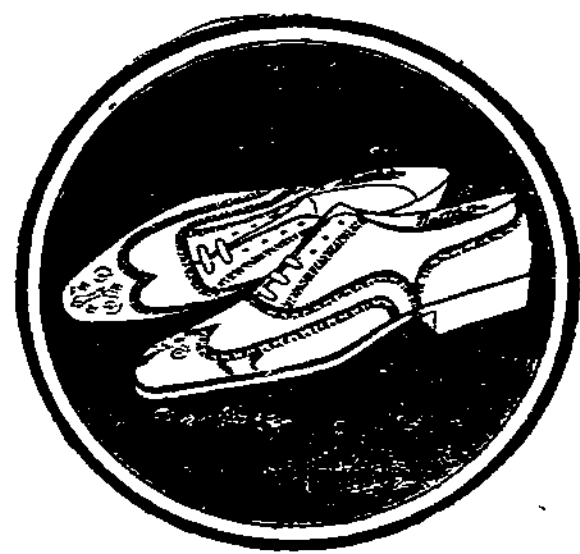

"The Courage of Marge O'Doone" will Satisfy Your Appetite

If it is a genuine, tingling thrill you hunger for—some rare, red blooded adventure cut in huge chunks from the flanks of life in the raw; spiced with romance and sprinkled throughout with suspense or, in plain words, you are looking for the prize photoplay of the season, the one that has all the zip and zest that you have looked for so vainly, your hunger will be satisfied on Thursday, Friday and Saturday, when "The Courage of Marge O'Doone" will be shown at the Majestic theatre.

"The Courage of Marge O'Doone" was written by James Oliver Curwood, one of the most popular of present day novelists. It has been made into a big special production by Vitagraph with a star cast of well known players, headed by Niles and Pauline Starke. It is a big, dramatic, fighting photoplay story. The arena of action is that most thrilling, vigorous and romantic of all the world's stages, the wild, white wastes of the frozen north.

There are primitive men, gritty and beautiful women, men fighting against the elements, man against man, bear fights and the long lonely trails that break the hearts and sinews of men; there is that red-blooded romance and adventure of the great story right where it begins, right where it belongs, right where it is bred. It is a masterpiece of dramatic writing made into a masterpiece of a photoplay. It opens in the arctic and it ends there after a succession of breathless, thrilling and unusual episodes that keep the pulse pounding and anticipation whetted as it sweeps along to a swift smashing and unexpected climax.

Criminals Dark-Eyed.

Over 75 per cent. of the world's bigamists have had brown eyes. That is an amazing fact. "I can tell a criminal by his eyes," said Vidocq, the famous French detective, and in dozens of cases he stated that his suspicions were first aroused by seeing the eyes of the guilty person. He added that it was a remarkable fact that the majority of criminals, with the one exception of murderers, are dark-eyed.

Real Things of Life.

Conventional orthodoxies, whether they be of manners, or of ways of life, or of thought, or of religion, or of education, are unimportant. What then remains? Courage, and patience, and simplicity, and kindness, and beauty, and, last of all, ideas remain; and these are the things to lay hold of and to live with.—A. C. Benson.

Umbrella Plant.

The umbrella plant is a sedge plant and must have moisture, but it may be grown to fine proportions in a moist corner of the garden. Propagate by taking the umbrellalike tops and leaving about an inch of stem to them. When done blooming, sink in water, wet sand or wet earth. The roots may be divided to good advantage.

Bird's Nest Caught Fire.

A bird's nest caused a fire at Folkestone, Kent, England, not long since. The nest, built just below a wooden window-sill at a boarding house on the water front, was ignited by sparks from a chimney, and the window-sill caught fire. The fire was subdued before any extensive damage was done.

To Clean Bottles.

Never use tacks or buckshot to clean the inside of bottles, jugs and pitchers, but the ground shell of an egg, salt and lemon or a little white vinegar. A piece of raw potato soaked in a carafe or any of the deeper pieces will help to make brightening a light task and cleaning still easier.

Collecting a Crowd.

"I don't know what to do to collect a crowd," said the street salesman. "My old methods are all getting too familiar." "Nothing is easier," replied Mr. Chuggins. "If you want to collect a crowd simply pretend that your automobile is broken and that you are going to try to fix it."

Matter of Protection.

A man who not only has no automobile, but who cannot be persuaded to so much as enter one, has been going around with a pair of motor goggles. Some one inquired why he wore them, seeing that he had no car. "No," he said grimly; "but my wife has hatpins!"

Short Is Man's Life.

Remember, that man's life lies all within this present, as 'twere but a hair's breadth of time; as for the rest, the past is gone, the future yet unseen. Short, therefore, is man's life, and narrow is the corner of the earth wherein he dwells.—Marcus Aurelius.

Preventing China From Chipping.

Household china is apt to get chipped at the taps in the kitchen. Cut two small pieces from some garden hose or rubber tubing, and slip one over each of the faucets at the sink. This will prevent such accidents.

Life Saving Extraordinary.

An Irishman, meeting a friend, asked what had become of their old chum, Sandy. "Ah, poor old Sandy. Didn't you hear? Why, he was condemned to be hanged, but he saved his life by committing suicide in jail."

What He Did.

"What have you ever done for me?" complained the young man whose father had chided him for his inability to get ahead. "Well, I kept your mother from naming you Percy or Clarence."

If.

If princes knew when to speak, and women to keep silent, courtiers said what they thought, and servants to conceal it, the whole world would be at peace.—Chinese.

Trouble She Had Found.

Kitty—"They say, you know, that one makes the world go round." Ma—"Maybe; but it cannot make the right young men go round."—Boon Transcript.

Knowledge.

I had rather know that I know nothing than feed myself on illusory and irreconcilable assertions.—Marice Masterlinck, in the Country Magazine.

Murderer Given Two Years' Grace.

Greece possesses a curious criminal law. A person sentenced to death here waits two years before the execution of the sentence.

Wants to Stay There.

After a man has reached the top he begins to hope that the rungs in the ladder will all give out.—Detroit Free Press.

Deeper Than the Ocean.

Geologists have discovered a number of submarine canyons or drowned rivers, along the east coast of the United States. Both the Hudson and Delaware rivers are in this class, as well as Chesapeake Bay. The St. Lawrence river in Canada, and the Congo in Africa, are also deeper, near their mouths, than the ocean.

The Hudson river worn by the flow of the stream, is considerably deeper than the offshore part of the Atlantic. It is flooded by the intruding ocean. The bay and lower river compose what would be called in Norseland a fiord.

The whole east coast of the United States has some a good deal in the course of ages, owing to the enormous weight of material brought down by the rivers and deposited out in the ocean off shore. But geologists say that the melting of glaciers has largely to do with the phenomenon.

Conservative Customs Die Hard.

In spite of having a well-equipped mission hospital in the city of Tai-how, China, where men and women can receive the best of medical care and treatment, the native doctor or witch still flourishes. He sits at the street corner and the ignorant Chinese flock round him, especially on market or festival days. No method, however careful and drastic, deters the believers in his powers of healing—indeed they expect to be made to suffer acutely in order to "expel the original pain." Or they are head up to the ridicule of the mob because their disease portends the possession of an evil spirit.

Insects That Have Short Life.

There are many eggs of small insects that are hatching all the time. The ray of sunshine, falling weakly upon the side of a tree, or upon an old log, will hatch out many of these eggs, and the little creatures wobble through the frozen air for a few minutes before perishing. Possibly it is a tragedy with them when they are brought into the world too soon. At any rate they do not flourish; they do not mate and propagate their kind when hatched out in winter.

Incompatibility.

It is said that the average Chicago family spends fifty-one cents a year for books, and we do not see any immediate hope of friendly relations being established between the Windy city and Boston—Newark (O.) Advocate.

Lime Water Bread.

Lime is lacking in the tropics, generally speaking, and for that reason a medical authority urges the eating of bread made of lime water as a means of supplying the necessary element to the system.

Found Excuse for Him.

William, looking out of the window one day, was much scandalized to see a man walk up to a woman and kiss her. He evidently thought it over, however, for he said presently: "Well, perhaps he is one of her ancestors."

To Avoid Noise.

If doors in swinging back strike the wall with a bang, the noise can be overcome by fastening a cork to the wall, where the door strikes. Use a small nail so as not to disfigure the wall.

The Pity of It.

First lady—"Why, didn't you know my husband was a great optimist?" Second lady—"No. What a pity! He could have had the order I gave for a pair of spectacles for my husband only last week!"

Humorous Comment.

Willie had accompanied his mother to a church social at which ice cream was served. The following Sunday his brother had served ice cream at the noonday meal, and there being a small quantity left, had apportioned it to the members of the family at supper. On receiving his portion Willie looked at his plate critically, then said: "Mamma, this looks like a sociable dish of ice cream."

MILLIONAIRE OIL MAGNATE IS OUTWITTED BY LOCAL MAN

J. C. Arnold Obtains for Trifling Sum Asset for Which Millionaire Offered a Million

J. C. Arnold, printer and linotype operator, of Huntington, W. Va., has as he says, the distinction of putting one over on the country's greatest oil magnate. In an interview Mr. Arnold tells the full details in a most interesting manner.

"About a year and a half ago," says Mr. Arnold, "I began having attacks of stomach trouble, which continued getting worse until my liver and kidneys were so affected that I was forced to quit work. I had been working night shift on an Akron paper and shifted without avail. I was taking medicine continually, first one doctor and then another but kept getting worse. 'Every time a friend suggested a remedy I tried it, until at last some one recommended the Reese Formula R-11. By this time I had given up hope but began taking the Reese Formula R-11. I had no com-idence in it or anything else. Imagine my surprise when after taking about half the first bottle my condition began to improve. I continued taking it and before finishing the third bottle I was completely restored. I am again working and feel better than I have for many years."

"The Reese Formula R-11," continued Mr. Arnold, "cost me a dollar and a quarter a bottle and considering the fact that a millionaire oil magnate offered a million dollars for a relief from stomach trouble, I think I am some financier."

"But then people don't think they can get relief unless it is expensive. All I can say is that it only costs one dollar and twenty-five cents, the price of the Reese Formula R-11, to relieve stomach trouble, for my case has proven it."

The Reese Formula R-11 is sold by all druggists or Hennings' Drug Store.

TWO CENTS

YOUNG GIRL DISAPPEARS FROM HOME NEAR ROSCOE

Aid of Local Police Is Asked to Locate the Missing One

DISAPPEARANCE A MYSTERY

The services of the Charleroi police were enlisted this morning to assist in the search for a 16-year-old girl named Bernice Roberts, whose home is near Mt. Tabor, out from Roscoe. The girl, a former student of the Douglass Business College, left last Wednesday, since which time her people at home have heard nothing as to her whereabouts.

Some mystery appears to surround the disappearance of the girl, and for a time it was thought that a couple of young men of Charleroi, and friends of the girl, might know something of her actions and where she is located. However, both of them have satisfied the authorities that they are ignorant as to where the girl is at the present time, or why she left home.

Two sisters of the girl were at the police station this morning in conference with Officer Murphy, who interviewed some of the school girl friends of the young lady, but they were unable to give any clue as to her whereabouts. They related some parts of conversations they had with the girl, which indicated she might at some time leave home, but she had never confided in them as to her intentions were in the matter.

On Wednesday last Miss Roberts returned home early, later returning to Charleroi, and left here bound for Pittsburg apparently on the 1:45 train. She told no one as to her real destination, although she had remarked to girl school friends that she was going to a point near Pittsburg.

A brother of the girl, who lives with his mother in Wheeling and who was written to concerning the disappearance of Miss Roberts, arrived at the family home a few days ago and said he had seen nothing of her in Wheeling.

The father and other members of the family are considerably worried over the absence of the young lady, although she left a note in which she asked them not to worry about her. A business card that may lead to a clue was found among the possessions of the girl. It was from a Pittsburg traveling man, and more a note in which he stated he was going to Brownsville, and asked her something concerning a ride. However, it is established that this man was on his way up the valley from Charleroi the day the girl left on the north bound train.

The local police believe they will be able to locate the girl before the week is over.

SAILOR WILL SOON BE IN COMMISSION

The steamer Saylor, of the Vesta Coal company line, which sank in the lock chamber at Lock No. 3 last January, and which was practically wrecked at the time, will soon be in commission again. The boat was taken, to the marine ways at Floreffe after being raised, where it was rebuilt and placed in good shape for further service. The boat is badly needed by the line at the present time, owing to the fact that the Vesta now lies wrecked in the river near Allenport.

JURY FINDS VERDICT IN RICHARDS' CASE

A coroner's jury composed of George Newton, Hayes Harper, John McKenna, W. S. Piersol, John Hagenbaugh and George Stablein, held an inquest on Saturday afternoon 11st at the Crowley morgue to inquire into the circumstances surrounding the death of Thomas H. Richards, engineer on the steamer, who died after being rescued from the boat when it had overturned in the river during a storm.

Many members of the crew of the ill-fated boat were called as witnesses among them the pilot on watch at the time, the mate, watchman, a deckhand and P. C. Elsey, assistant master of transportation of the line.

After hearing the evidence in the case the jury returned a verdict in which they found that the deceased came to his death from injuries and exhaustion received when the steamer Vesta overturned in the river on Sunday, June 13, 1920 and the accident was unavoidable.

Killed, Then Robbed of Savings of a Lifetime

A few hours before he was to have left for New York, where he was to embark for Poland, his native land, Peter Ostifin, aged 46 of Simpson cokes works, near Brownsville, was shot to death while he lay asleep in his boarding house Sunday morning by three robbers, after probably snatching one and seriously wounding another fellow boarders of Ostifin, who followed them.

About $3,000 of the hoarded savings of Ostifin, who had been employed in the coke industry in the vicinity of Brownsville for the past 15 years, was missing when the body was examined following the murder. The remainder, $2,000, tied in small bundles and fastened to his underwear, was overlooked by the murderers.

Ostifin was shot between the eyes. His assailants, who fellow boarders of Ostifin's describe as being three foreigners with their faces painted black, held the weapon so close to their victim's head that the face was badly blackened by the powder.

Aroused by the shooting scores of miners and coke workers living in the vicinity organized a posse and searched the neighborhood for the murderers without success. It is believed the murderers were acquainted with the dead man and his method of carrying his money, and of his intention of leaving for New York on his way back to Poland.

A somewhat similar occurrence happened at VanVoorhis on Pigeon foreigner about ten days ago, when a foreigner about to leave for his native land, was assaulted at a christening, his skull fractured, and $4,500 in money taken from his person. One of the assailants is now in the lockup awaiting the outcome of the man's injuries.

SLOW PROGRESS ON OPENING OF ROAD

It will take many days, possibly weeks, for the Allegheny county road department to clear away the debris with which the concrete highway in Forward township, opposite Monongahela, is blocked. A large force of men is at work on the task, but progress is slow, due to the fact that the debris is a wet, soggy mass, in which dirt and roots are intermingled to such an extent as to make speed be the case, it will not take long to put the road back in commission, once the obstruction is removed.

MONON. FIREMEN WANT TO RAISE $12,000

The Monongahela volunteer fire department began a campaign today to raise the sum of 12,000 by popular subscription, with which they propose to buy a fire truck which will be equipped with a pump capable of throwing a stream of water over any house in the hill district. The plans of the campaign have been carefully worked out, and the firemen hope to receive such assistance from the townspeople that their aims will be realized. The campaign will continue for two weeks, ending on Monday, July 5. It is proposed to cover the entire city, as well as contiguous territory, and the prospects are considered very favorable for the success of the enterprise. The Monongahela fire department, like the Charleroi organization, has responded to all out-of-town calls, and has done efficient service on all such occasions. However, they feel they have been handicapped by the lack of a pump on their truck, and this deficiency they now hope to fill as the result of the financial campaign now under way.

DONORA GUARANTORS MAY HAVE TO PAY

Donora guarantors of the Chautauqua which is playing its dates in that town at the present time, may be called upon to make up a deficit of about $600.00. According to a statement made last week the guarantors amounts to $1,925.00. Up to Friday the amount of tickets sold was $1,372. and the difference will have to be made up by those whose names appears on the guarantors' list. Weather conditions have been against the enterprise in Donora this year, the program opening during the heavy storm of last Wednesday, and at no time have they had a real June day. The exhibitions are scheduled to close Tuesday night.

COAL PRIORITY ORDERS HAVE BEEN ISSUED, EFFECTIVE AT ONCE

STORM HELD UP A FLEET OF 10 COLES

A fleet of ten Cole-S automobiles was caught in the storm in the Pittsburgh creek valley last Wednesday afternoon and after repeated efforts to get around the washouts, the drivers finally abandoned the attempt and spent the night in their machines, on the side of the road. On the following day the cars were taken into Monongahela, and from there to Pittsburg by way of Finleyville, the road on the opposite side of the river being blocked by the heavy landslide which destroyed a portion of the concrete highway.

WILL BACK HARDING IN THE CAMPAIGN

Echoes from the board of trade banquet held in Monessen last winter, at which Senator Harding was the speaker, are coming forth. The Monessen banquet was the first meeting in the Pittsburgh district at which he spoke, and made his announcement as a candidate for President known. He said, however, that he would support any Republican that the convention might choose. The unselfish spirit of the man was manifest in his entire talk, his great Americanism appealed to all alike, and it is doubtful if there was one who left that banquet hall who did not believe that Senator Harding would make a great President. Surrounding the banquet board were men in prominence in the business world throughout the entire district, among the visitors being delegations from Donora and Charleroi, and the Herald of that town applauds the nomination in the following words:

"It was not so much for his eloquence, but for the common sense, practical principles that I liked Senator Warren G. Harding, and had the hope that he might be the Republican candidate for President, although it did not seem probable at that time," declared R. H. Hoopes, president of the Donora Community Service on learning that Senator Harding was the "dark horse" nominee of the Republican party. "Because they know Senator Harding personally, have talked with him and have listened to him enunciate his ideas of practical management of the United States government a group of officials of the Donora Community Service will be solidly behind Senator Harding during the campaign."

For Next 30 Days Coal Must Be Given for Domestic Needs

WILL NOT AFFECT PRODUCTION

Drastic action for the relief of the fuel shortage in New England and other sections of the country was taken by the Inter-State Commerce Commission on Saturday night, in the issuance of a preferential and priority order to the railroads for the transportation of bituminous coal to tidewater for trans-shipment by water to destination within the United States.

Stating that an "emergency exists which requires immediate action," the commission ordered all railroads in the Eastern and Southern territories to give preference and priority to carloads of coal consigned to New England and or any other domestic destination "until the further order of the commission." The order is effective on the coming Thursday.

The commission simultaneously ordered all railroads east of the Mississippi river serving coal mines to furnish the mines with coal cars in preference to any other use for a period of 30 days, beginning with today.

A virtual embargo on export coal is expected to result from the commission's orders, because, railroad men assert, the agents appointed for the direction of coal shipments cannot issue permits for the movement of coal for foreign destination unless it can be shown that the preference and priorities directed will not be impeded. At least 30 days will be necessary to care for domestic wants, it is said, provided congestion is overcome to a point permitting rapid coal movement.

Bituminous coal production during the week ending June 12 reached the highest level since the beginning of the strike of railroad switchmen, with an increase of 8 per cent over the last preceding full-time week which ended May 29.

This new order on the part of the Interstate Commission will in no manner curtail the production of coal it will only tend to divert the output to domestic needs rather than to export, the idea being to take care of the demands of New England and the lake trade instead of sending the coal abroad.

From present indications the price of bituminous coal will remain at a high figure for some time, with no immediate prospect of much of an increase in production.
